Hi Matt,

Some of the groups have asked for more time. I hope to share our responses with you in the next couple weeks.

In the meantime, however, I can address some of your questions regarding groundwater data. Attached is a list of groundwater studies demonstrating an increase in nitrate drinking water contamination between 1988 and 2019.

Let me know if I can provide any additional information or clarification, and thanks in advance for your patience and consideration.

Best,
Kristina
